Stackstown to Host Club Fund-Raising Golf Classic

Picturesque Stackstown Golf Club is the venue for the Club's 1st Annual Golf Classic in aid of the Juvenile Section.

All golfers or aspiring golfers will get a great opportunity to display their talents at the Club's Fundraising Golf Classic on Monday 30 June in Stackstown GC. Proceeds from the event are being earmarked for the juvenile section and the organising committee under the Chairmanship of John Ryan has put together a wonderful package guaranteed to provide top class golf and a most enjoyable day out. A team of four costs €500 and there are a number of other sponsorship opportunities. Ned Slattery is Secretary to the Golf Classic and he will be happy to take your details.

The Club is delighted that one of Ireland's prestige property development companies – Walthill Properties – is sponsoring the event.

The day will conclude with a Gala Presentation and Social Evening in the Clubhouse that night with some surprise guests providing entertainment. A range of unique items will go under the hammer of guest auctioneer Micheál Ó Muircheartaigh in the Auction that night and the draw for the winners of the Golf Classic Raffle run in parallel with the event

The Camogie Section's Fashion Show was a hair-raising success. See page 16.

Paul McGinley and Pádraig Harrington – 'Boden Ryder Cup Heroes'
Paul McGinley – hero of Europe's Ryder Cup win in 2002 brought Golf's most prestigious trophy to a special function in Jurys Hotel held in honour of the Dublin football team. Former club member Paul is seen here with Gerry O'Sullivan, Club PRO. Pádraig Harrington was also a major part of the Ryder Cup success and we extend our congratulations to both lads.

A Word from the Chairman

It is my pleasant task to pen my first contribution to the 'Boden News'. I am proud to have been elected Chairman of Ballyboden St. Endas GAA, Camogie and Ladies Football Club in December 2002 to follow a small group of people on whom this honour has been bestowed. The AGM was unique in some respects in that five new officers were elected to follow on the great service given by the men who held those onerous positions for a number of years.

I would like to thank Aiden Nevin, Conor Doolan, Pat Nash, Tom Mullen, and Liam Carter for their devotion to the club and the work that they and others have progressed over the recent past. I wish to thank Philip Ryan for contesting the election and subsequently for agreeing to serve on our Development Sub-Committee.

I would also like to pay tribute to the outgoing Development Committee under Aiden Nevin along with John Kirwan, Donal Monahan, Eamonn O'Sullivan, Fergus Reid, Pat Nash and Patsy Monaghan for their valuable contribution.

The Executive Committee had to hit the ground running on a number of fronts, not least, the crucially important issue of the sale of the club's property at Oldcourt. A decision had been taken at a Special General Meeting in October 2002 to place the site on the market for sale by public tender - the ultimate aim being to make funds available to meet the critical development needs of the club.

Among these are the completion of the payment of the purchase price of the lands at Sancta Maria College; the construction of a sports hall at Sancta Maria to be jointly used by the club and the school; the development of top quality grass and all-weather playing facilities for the school and for the club.

The incoming Executive Committee acted on the decision of the members and another milestone in the development of the club was reached on 1 May 2003 when you the members, passed a motion agreeing to the sale of the lands at Oldcourt. The details are being carefully finalised at the present to implement that decision.

In line with club policy, the Executive Committee will ensure that the proceeds from this sale will be ring fenced for capital development purposes. Ballyboden St. Endas caters for in the region of 1,500 players from 6 years of age – boys and girls. However our current facilities are totally inadequate to cater for these numbers in a manner that befits our stature as one of the country's top clubs. This is a once in a lifetime opportunity but we have to seize the opportunity during this lifetime and put it to the benefit of current and future generations of members. A detailed physical development plan will be put in place to build the type of infrastructure we need and I can assure you that the club will require every cent of income at our disposal as well as the ongoing support of our members.

Fund-raising will continue to be an essential requirement to meet the ongoing recurrent costs of the club and in this regard I wish to commend a number of recent initiatives. I congratulate the Camogie Section – Fashion Show; the Ladies Football Section – raffle; Hurling Section – table quiz; Football Section – race night and Juvenile Section – golf classic. This type of fund-raising activity will continue to be required despite the sale of Oldcourt. I ask each section to liaise with Noel Browne of the Social Section when organising your events.

The Lotto Committee, under the Chairmanship of Gerry Hogan will soon be launching Year 5 of the Lotto. The theme for the coming year will be the support of juvenile coaching in all four codes both within the club and in partnership with the schools. I ask for your support, both financially by purchasing Lotto tickets, and practically by serving on the Lotto Committee and selling Lotto tickets.

The championship season is upon us again and our aim must be to achieve success in all four codes, football, hurling, and camogie and ladies football, particularly at senior level. Our camogie and ladies football teams have shown us the way over the last few years and now it is up to the other codes to go that step further. The early season signs are promising and hopefully they will continue to prosper.

While the effort of underage teams to achieve championship and league success is not being ignored, the ultimate aim is to win senior championships. The Executive Committee is committed to providing whatever support is necessary to our teams to achieve the success we all now need. I wish players and managers of all teams every success in their efforts.

I would like to thank former Chairman Gerry O'Sullivan for all his help and advice, since my election, and I am delighted that Gerry will continue in his role as P.R.O. for the Club. Thanks to Mark Magahran, Iris Kirwan and Sportsfile for some of the photographs.

To Noel, Paddy, Sinead, Vincent, Tommy (C), Pat, Lebby, Danny, Noel, Tom (O'B), I thank you for all the hard work and long hours over the past 5 months.

A First Time for 'Boden "Seniors"

It looks like a new date has to be added to the Social Calendar. The Club's Senior Members are already looking forward to the next Christmas Party for Senior Citizens in the club. The inaugural event last December was a great success when nearly 120 invited guests from Ballyboden, Firhouse, Knocklyon and Rathfarnham were treated to dinner and live entertainment including Santa Claus.

The initiative came from Tommy Clinton with assistance from Dan Browne, Tommy O'Brien, Patsy Glennon, Paul Carroll, Gerry Hogan and John Fair. Bobby Grace was an able MC for the event and Brendan Scully came in the guise of "you know who".

Organiser Tommy Clinton said "Paddy Brady and staff were ably assisted by the lovely ladies of the club in preparing and serving the meal." The organisers would also like to thank Bar Manager Ned Slattery and staff for their help.

Fundraising projects for this year's Party will be announced later and members support would be welcomed.

Lotto

Year 5 of the Club's Lotto will be relaunched shortly with the proceeds going to supporting the Club's Coaching Programme. The largest jackpot winner to date was €10,000 and it was won by Ben Conlon of Orlagh Rise.

Distinguished Service

Coiste na Sean Gael held their inaugural presentation ceremony in the Clubhouse in February 2002. The initiative had an impressive start and for their second outing An Coiste headed for Faughs GAA club where three club members were honoured for their services to gaelic games. They received specially commissioned certificates from County Board Secretary John Costello.

Social Committee

Following the sell-out PICTUREHOUSE concert in February, Noel Browne and his social committee are bringing the hugely popular band back to the Clubhouse. Saturday 28th June is the date for your diary. PICTUREHOUSE have just come back from an acclaimed tour of South Africa and will no doubt draw another full house.

Also on the way to the 'Boden is the NIAL TONER BAND on Saturday 14 June. The show starts at 10.00 pm. Tickets available soon from Noel Browne and members of the Social Committee.

HURLING – BOLAND CUP SUCCESS NUMBER 4

It took a replay and extra time to decide the destination of the Boland Cup 2002 but at the end the trophy returned to the club for the fourth time in our history. The campaign spanned two managerial teams so well done to Dan O'Sullivan, Noel Sheridan, Paul Daly, Brian Carty and Brian Reilly as well as Paudie Ó Neill, John Ryan and Paddy Corrigan. Tomás and Niall Ó Riordáin, Gary Cullen and Jonathan Kenny have been members of all winning squads.

In the current season the Senior A team (Paudie Ó Neill, Paddy Corrigan, John Ryan) has made an impressive start with three wins out of three in the League - Kilmacud Crokes, Naomh Jude and Commercial and an opening championship victory over Crumlin. The Senior Bs (Conor Sheehan, P.J. Breen and Francis Sharkey) have yet to garner some points but the Intermediate side (Bernard Curtis, Ciaran Smith and Brian Reilly) have made steady progress winning three of their four league games. The Junior B team (Emmet Pullan, Mick Fletcher, Dermot Maguire and Ultan Mac Mathúna) remain unbeaten with four out of four wins in the League.

Unfortunately the Minor A side (Martin Donohue and Oliver Hickey) were eliminated by St. Vincents from the Championship but the Minor B team (John Keating, Joe Ryan and Liam Hogan) had a great victory over Parnells to take this title for the first time in the club's history.

The club has currently Conal Keaney, Stephen Hiney, Darragh Spain, David Sweeney, Alan Ryan and Simon Daly on the County senior hurling team with Michael Griffin and Raymond O'Higgins featuring on the minor side.

Football Affairs

by Seán Flynn

The club has entered nine teams for adult football competitions for the 2003 season – Senior, Intermediate, three Junior teams, Under 21 and three minor teams.

The Senior team has made a bright start to the season taking 11 points from their first six games with wins over Raheny, St. Vincents, St. Annes, Cráobh Chiaráin and Thomas Davis and a draw with Naomh Olaf. The Intermediate team has two points from six games while the Junior As have seven points from a possible ten. The Junior Bs have two wins and one draw and the Junior C team under new manager Andrew Conaghy has two points from five starts.

In the Minor Football championship – the A team reached the Quarter-final before going down to Kilmacud Crokes who at the time of writing have reached the final against St. Sylvesters. The B team under the baton of Sheila Clear and Don McMahon reached the second round while in the Shield – the C team with Robert Lambert in charge also advanced as far as Round 2.

Congratulations to Declan O'Mahony and Conal Keaney on their Leinster U-21 success, and Gavin O'Gara on making the Dublin Minor panel.

Great to see Colin Moran restored to his best position at half-back in the Dublin senior lineout and we look forward to seeing him return to his glory days for club and county. Darren Homan was highly impressive when introduced as a substitute against Roscommon and Galway. Tommy Lyons would be unwise to ignore him.

Finally, Enda McNulty made a big impression at centre forward when he came into that position against St. Vincents. Has "big Joe" been told?

Up to the Summer of 1976 the only Junior football team in the club was managed by Paddy Connolly and they won the Conlon Cup that year. The late Ned Murphy Club Chairman at the time decided to form a junior B team and appointed Sean Leane as manager and Pat Ledwidge as his assistant.

In the early days it was a struggle to muster 15 players and occasionally the selectors had to sub-up! The team managed a few early successes and as new recruits were added the team got better and better. The team played 41 games that season and won 40 of them including the Southside league section and the play-off against St Brigid's (Northside winners) for the Dublin League title the first Ballyboden St Endas football team to do so. The only defeat of the season came in the semi-final of the Parson Cup against "a very strong" St Marks!

It is interesting to note that now almost 27 years later, the fathers of two of the players are club trustees and nearly one third of the panel of players are still very active in the club and have given many years of service and coaching back to the later generations of players. Wouldn't it be nice to think that in 2030 someone will look at a photo of one of our present teams and say the same thing.

Literary 'Boden

A number of young members of Ballyboden St. Endas have revealed hidden literary talents as part of Coláiste Éanna's Young Entrepreneurs' Scheme. "Lasting Memories" is the title of a collection of short stories compiled by students at the school – Ralph Brogan and Brian McGee. Among the contributors are club players Michael Griffin and David Kelly. The book is on sale in the Church Shop in Knocklyon and in the Map Bookstore in Rathfarnham Shopping Centre and in Easons. Price €7.99.

The Bill Daly Cup

Bill Daly has done trojan work for ladies football at local, provincial and national levels and his name will never be forgotten now that the winners of the Leinster Senior Club Ladies Football title will be the proud recipients of the Bill Daly Cup. Bill completed his term as President of the Leinster Council in 2002 and one of his final acts was to donate a cup for the competition. The first name to appear on the base was of course Ballyboden St. Endas.

SCHOOL AROUND THE CORNER

Scoil Treasa – Firhouse

Girls make history

In the first week of September 2002, twenty-two girls committed themselves to this year's football squad. Little did they think that they were to become part of what was to be an historic year for girls football in Scoil Treasa.

In the group stage of the competition, the girls overcame strong opposition from schools in Ballinteer, Balally, Blanchardstown and Cabinteely. They also played in a very tight match in Bushy Park against a strong Sandymount side.

By winning all their matches, the girls topped their group and faced Archbishop Ryan's NS, Balgaddy in the semi final. The match was played in Cherryfield in front of terrific home support. This no doubt helped the girls to overcome the nerves and go on to win the game.

Anything after that would be a bonus as the girls had already made history by being the first girls football team from Scoil Treasa to get to a final. And as if that wasn't good enough, the news got even better when we were informed that the final was to be played in Croke Park.

Our opposition in the final was Rush NS and the whole school came along to support us on our momentous day. Despite a strong and brave performance, the girls' luck ran out. Although they led throughout the game, a goal scored in injury-time meant Rush NS won the cup by two points. A heart-breaking end to what had been a wonderful campaign but all were in agreement that the girls had done us proud!

Kings of Croker

by Cian Fitzgerald, 6th Class, R 4

Both teams came to Croke Park with only one thing on their minds – WINNING. But would it be a much improved Hollypark or Knocklyon with an unblemished record on their side. With the first score of the Corn Royal Breffni final going to Hollypark, Knocklyon looked nervous but they quickly removed that fly from their ointment notching up several fantastic scores. You could tell they wanted this trophy.

They went into the break with a huge lead. There wasn't going to be any stopping this team. With several more great scores, Hollypark just weren't going to get back. With the final score at 6.5 to 0.3, the 20 point margin told the whole story.

With one half of the double done there was a lot of pressure on the boys. When they got on the pitch you could tell they had trained hard for this and they took an early lead. They too went into the break the happier of the two sides. In the second half Marino got more scores and a comeback was on the cards but it was Knocklyon who came up trumps.

Further scores were added to Knocklyon's tally and they strolled to victory by a margin of 14 points. The captain Ciarán Maguire was more than happy to accept the Sciath Mhic Craith. With the double done and two more pieces of silverware added to Knocklyon's impressive collection, a sea of red and black exploded in the stands.

The Big Day

by Jamie Ryan (Rang a Sé)

The St. Mary's Team arrived early at school on the 22nd of November 2002. The flags were up all over the school and we were all very excited. We crowded on to the bus and left for Croke Park. We discussed tactics and thought about the game. We sang some school songs to get our nerves away but when we caught sight of Croke Park we all fell silent.

We parked in the car-park and headed for the dressing-rooms. We toggled out and had a warm-up on the Astroturf pitch. Mr. O'Riordan gave us his pep talk and we headed on to the pitch. The crowd weren't there yet which kind of spoiled our entrance but we were happy to be on the lovely turf of Croke Park. We warmed up again and waited for the starting whistle.

We played a great first half and were up by 9 points at half-time. Our opposition certainly wouldn't give up that early and we were looking forward to the next 30 minutes. We went well on top after that with goals and points coming onto the scoreboard quickly. All our subs got a run and we really enjoyed it. At the final whistle we were delighted with our victory and of course our brilliant supporters were too. The final score was .20 to Mary's and 2.7 to Belgrove. A well deserved victory.

The Ten Coaching Commandments!!!

Enda McNulty
Director of Coaching

Ballyboden St. Endas GAA, Camogie and Ladies Football Club is the biggest GAA club in the world. We have 51 juvenile teams out of an overall total of 73 teams. Approximately 150 coaches tend to the needs of the juvenile teams in the four sports. While bearing in mind that the dual player element reduces the actual number of individuals, it is nevertheless the case that in the region of 1,000 boys and girls between the ages of 9 and 16 are catered for. The fact that there are dual players does not lessen the burden as the requirements and demands on the club to provide resources and coaching for football/ladies football and hurling/camogie are different.

Clearly given the scale of this operation it is difficult to contest the view that the most important section of our club is the juvenile section. The young players of today are the stars of tomorrow.

Therefore it is imperative that we as coaches ensure that there is an accepted coaching policy in all codes. In order for Ballyboden St. Endas to become more successful at adult level we must have a co-ordinated approach to juvenile coaching.

This coaching policy provides guidelines which will enable every coach to ensure that we are progressing in a positive, unified manner. It is an evolving policy and will be amended in the light of experience.

It is of the utmost importance that these guidelines are adhered to by all coaches.

1. 1 ball/sliotar per child

It goes without saying that if young players are to improve their hurling/ football game, that they must have a sliotar/football of their own. If we accept this, then why not ask our players to arrive at training with their own footballs/sliotars. (Their name would be printed on the ball/sliotar in large print).

The French Football Federation initiated a youth development programme in the early nineties. Each young French player was expected to arrive at training with their football. At under thirteen level, the French play with their own ball, for the first fifteen minutes of training. The player decides what to do with the ball. This personalises their game.

Kevin Walsh in action against Enda McNulty in the Vodafone 2002 GAA All-Stars Exhibition Game in San Diego, California.

Imagine how many more ball/sliotar contacts our players will make at training if we introduce this policy. The more ball/sliotar contacts, the more improvement in skill, coordination, touch, and handling.

Pat Daly (Head of Games Development in Croke Park), recommends that each player should have 150-200 ball/sliotar contacts per session. In the case that each player has their own ball/sliotar, this figure could be doubled.

It is not feasible for the club to buy each child a ball/sliotar. But most children have a ball or sliotar, all they have to do is print their name on it and bring it to training. It does not have to be an O'Neills, as all skills can be practiced with cheaper versions. After all Zinedene Zidane, the famous French soccer player, made his own football with chicken wire wrapped around a ball of newspaper.

2 No fitness training for juveniles

Most of Ballyboden's players train with school and the club. A lot of our players are also dual players. Furthermore, a lot of our young players take part in other activities/sports, for example: rugby, soccer, basketball, swimming, hockey, gymnastics.

Therefore it is quite plausible for a 14 year old boy who plays hurling, football and takes swimming lessons; to be training or playing a match five to six times a week. Most of our juvenile players are training on a more regular basis than our senior players. Taking into account that none of our juvenile players have physically or psychologically matured, surely they don't need any further "fitness training!"

The point is that there is certainly no necessity for our young players to participate in fitness training. The majority of time at a training session should be spent with the ball or hurley in the hand. During 2002 the Armagh Senior football team used a ball for 80% of all sessions!

The French Football Federation recommends that

- * Under 13's participate in two to three training periods and one match.(club)
- * 13-15 year olds participate in 3-4 training periods and one match.

3 Fun games at start of session (fundamentals)

The first thing that is taught to all coaches on the G.A.A foundation course is that "the main coaching priorities are: skill acquisition and fun!"

Anybody who has ever coached a team will know that young players will:

- a) get bored very quickly if they're not having fun
- b) learn their skills much quicker if having fun
- c) be far more likely to come back to training if having fun.

It is preferable to make all the sessions as much fun as possible especially the warm up. Fun games are a perfect way to start a training session. They should involve as much movement/changes in direction/jumping/side stepping/changes in pace/mimicing of game situations as is possible.

Fun games like tig (tag), bull dog, catch the tails, stuck in the mud, ball tig, trucks and trailers, opposites; are all invaluable for the following reasons:

1. they are FUN! Hence the children come back!
2. the movement which kids perform are exactly the movements they will make in a match.
3. children learn side steps naturally while playing games like tig and bull dog. If you try to explain to young players how to do a side step, the majority will not understand.

You can make up your own fun games, or find new ones on the net. Even if you don't know any fun games ask the children, They are sure to know plenty!

4 Set aims/target/at start of season/session/match and regularly review

Not having an aim, target or not setting objective/goals for your season is like getting into a car and not knowing where you are going. Can you imagine a company not having targets at the start of a year. Targets are as important in the sporting arena as in any other.

Simple as this, if you don't know where you are going, how are you going to get there?

All aims and objectives or goals should be: S.M.A.R.T

Over 50 club coaches attended the Speed, Agility, Quickness (SAQ) course, organised by Enda McNulty under the direction of Jim Kilty (3rd from right, front row), director SAQ Ireland.

Specific: goals should be very specific. For example, it is our goal to ensure that all of our players can kick a ball over 20 yards with both feet

Measurable: objectives should be measured frequently. For example, we are going to make sure that all of our players get at least 30 minutes in every match by keeping a record in our logbook.

Action related: Aims must be associated to an action. For example, BBSE's Under 13 hurling or camogie team, is going to spend 10 minutes of each session working on creative practice.

Realistic: obviously aims must be realistic. There is no point in having a goal of winning every game by 20 points... it is not realistic.

Timescale: set a time or date by which you want to achieve your goal. For example, we want every player to be able to solo with left and right foot by July!!!!

5 Home practice is the most important practice

The most important practice of all for a child is the practice which they do on their own or with friends/family. This cannot be emphasised enough.

If you consider any of the GAA "stars" the one thing which they have in common with all the sporting "stars" in the world is that they all spent their childhood with a ball, hurley, American football, tennis racket etc.

Sporting greats are not born; they all have spent many thousands of hours of their childhood playing the sport they love.

After each session when a new skill is introduced or practiced the coach should set home practice for all the team. It is advisable to show the children the different ways of practicing the skill, perhaps against a wall or with a friend.

Scientific research has concluded that it takes 8-12 years of training for a talented athlete to reach elite levels (Bloom, Ericsson and Charness, 1994). For all athletes (players) this translates as slightly more than three hours of practice daily for ten years (Salmela, 1998).

Put simply for gaelic games, young players must spend a huge amount of time practicing if they are to become the D.J's, Peter Canavans, Maurice Fitzgeralds, Christy Rings, Sile Ni Coitirs, Cora Stauntons, Fiona O'Driscolls.

A good quote for youngsters is...practice doesn't make perfect...perfect practice makes perfect!!!!

6 Creative practice, part of every session

If you ask anyone - who are the five best camogie, hurling, ladies footballers or footballers. Invariably people will talk about the Peter Canavans, D.J Careys, Cora Stauntons, Pat Spillanes, Christy Rings. One quality which all of these players have is that they are creative.

All young players should be encouraged to be creative, but how do we coach them to be creative? Simple, ask them to copy the D.J's, the Colin Coopers of this world.

Let them practice what ever skill they want in whatever way they want...ask them to try something new, a skill they don't usually try.

How many coaches encourage their young players to try a "fancy" skill, a new skill or a more difficult skill?

If players are not encouraged to try something new or creative in a match or in training, then only a minority of them will try a new skill themselves.

So in order to introduce creativity into your training sessions: set a period in each session (7-10 mins) in which the young players can do whatever hurling/gaelic skill they want. Therefore this allows them to express themselves and allow them to "personalise" their game.

It should go without saying that every young player should be constantly "encouraged" to use left and right hand/feet. This should happen in every session, not just the odd one. Young players should also be encouraged to use left and right hand/feet in matches (for the simple reason that if for example, a boy never uses his left foot in games until he is 16. It is highly unlikely that he will begin to, after this....unless he has a very determined coach).

How many players on your team are "natural" at using left and right feet and hand? Is this the players fault or is this due to inadequate coaching? Unfortunately it is the fault of the coaches!!!! Equal time must be spent developing both sides...

It is not too extreme to say that this must be ENFORCED. That is, drills, skills, games, shooting, matches home practice, all must involve players developing their left and right sides.

If you as a coach have not preached the above before...it is not too late to start!!!!

All young players should be taught to strike off their left side just as much as their right side and vice versa. Also each young player should be taught how to catch and hand pass competently off both hands. DJ wasn't born with the talent to strike perfectly off both sides; this came with quality coaching and endless hours of practice.

9 No Pigeon Holing.

In the U.S they use the phrase "pigeon holing" to describe the categorisation of a child as a certain type of player from a young age. For example, how many young players are played at full back because their father or brother played there?

How many of us as coaches have put a young player into full forward because they are "slow" but have decent skill? I have recently been talking to Malcolm O'Kelly (Irish Rugby player) and Padraig Harrington (pro golfer). They both informed me that while playing for BBSE they were made to play in goals as they were "big/slow and awkward". Both players left our club.

Ajax of Amsterdam, are famed for their youth academy which has produced several international soccer players. One of the policies which they implement at youth level is that all players experience playing in all positions in training and in matches. They feel that this leads to better all round players who are comfortable and knowledgeable about playing in all positions.

So it is much better for young players' confidence and ability to experience as many different positions as possible in matches as well as in training!

10 Winning is not everything or the only thing

"Winning is not everything or the only thing...in Ballyboden St. Endas Juvenile club.....player development, enjoyment, and player retention are the most important things!"

Unfortunately, parents and coaches in many sports still approach training and matches with an attitude best characterized as the "peaking by Friday" approach (Balyi and Hamilton, 1999). We now know that a long term commitment to training is required to produce elite athletes in all sports (Ericsson and Charness, 1994).

Why then in Ballyboden St. Endas are "we" all so interested in winning under 10, 12 or 13 leagues and championships. It seems to be an accepted view in the club that "we have to win the Feile!"

Of course it is good for our teams to be successful at juvenile level. Ballyboden St. Endas is among the top clubs in Dublin, in terms of juvenile leagues and championships. The question we have to ask ourselves is, "are we happy being the biggest and best juvenile club in Dublin?" Or, do we want to ensure our juvenile section is utilised as a conveyor belt which produces all round, complete players?

So that by the time our players become senior players, that they have developed all aspects of their game! Therefore we should be in a position to compete with the Crossmaglens, Nemo Rangers, Birrs, Carnacon, Saint Ibars, Na Piarsaigh, Athenry's, Dunloys.

Nursery Coaches take a Break

Almost a century of service to the club's hurling, football and camogie nurseries was honoured when Kilkenny's D.J. Carey, John Power and Michael Rice and Ballyboden St. Endas and Dublin's Colin Moran were special guests at presentations to coaches who have given years of service on Saturday mornings at Pairc Uí Mhurchú, Cherryfield and the Hermitage.

In 23 consecutive years, hurling coach Marius Martin missed only six sessions as he devotedly turned up each Saturday morning to start hundreds of young boys on their hurling careers.

For much of that period the Lennon Brothers Shay, Tony and John as well as Bill Daly were actively involved in imparting the skills of football at Pairc Uí Mhurchú and the Hermitage respectively while in camogie Olive Maguire, Mary Keating and Kathleen O'Sullivan introduced countless girls to the joys of camogie.

Due to other commitments Bill Daly and Kathleen O'Sullivan were unable to be present on the night.

Sponsorship

The Club is delighted to announce that MUTEK, the Municipal and Utilities Truck Equipment Company - the Daimler Chrysler AG Dealer for Mercedes-Benz Commercial Vehicles has decided to sponsor the Club's Minor Hurling team. The team strip will carry the famous Mercedes Benz logo as well as the words MUTEK.IE.

Over 70 players took part in the extremely successful 7-a-side Adult Football Blitz on Saturday 22 March. Organised by Jim Goodall and Conor Hand and sponsored by Mellon Mortgage Services (David Mellon/Pat Keane - 01 492 0044), the Blitz was divided into 6 teams with players from Junior C to Senior taking part.

The "paper" favourites were Team E with notable senior players Shane Heraty, Ian Clarke and Paddy Healy (and birthday boy Shane Tully) lining out. But, as often happens on occasions like this, the form-book was torn up and the favourites ended up with the wooden spoon.

On a glorious day for football, the dark horses, Team C, went quietly about their business and scraped into the final. On the other side of the draw, Paul Bealin, Darragh Kiernan and company strolled into the final and were now the bookies favourites to take the gold. Paul Goodall, Team C manager, however, putting down a marker as a potential future senior team manager, outfoxed the other Paul and the game saw some excellent moves and scores that have already marked out some of the players involved as ones to be watched in the future. A large crowd watched a good final and a very successful day was capped with a lovely function, later that evening, with a meal prepared by Paddy Brady and music and song supplied by the bould John Doyle.

Vouchers were presented to the first and second placed teams, and wooden spoons were presented to each member of the aforementioned Team E. Following a moving acceptance speech, the manager of Team E, Bobby O'Sullivan, graciously donated his spoon to Paddy Healy.

For the record, the members of the panel of the winning team were Joey Byrne, James Kearney, Nigel Loughman, Charlie Kennedy, Cian Hore, Karol Cronin, John Corrigan, Daire Walsh, Andrew Kerin, Sean Lally and Brian Canavan.

On the night, player of the year awards for 2002 were presented to Darragh Kiernan (Senior), Mark Fitzgerald (Intermediate), Paul Manley (Junior A) and Eamonn McConnell (Junior B).

The organisers thanked the Juvenile and Camogie Sections for re-arranging some of their fixtures to facilitate the event, the referees Dave Conway and Senan Finucane, Paddy Brady for the food, John Doyle for the music and Ned Slatery and his staff for looking after matters in their normal professional way.
