Sancta Maria Complex – taking shape

As the club enters its 40th Anniversary Year in 2009, the sparkling development at the Sancta Maria Complex is a wonderful testimony to the club and the manner in which it has responded to the challenges of the times.

In 1999, the Club voted to purchase the site and for the past decade, the club has diligently proceeded to develop the complex. To date a floodlit AstroTurf type All-Weather pitch has been provided; a superb floodlit All-Weather pitch (140m x 81m) came on stream in 2008 and next Spring the Prunty pitch (138m x 86m) will be used for games. Already, the club has claimed honours – Senior hurling league and Under 14 football league titles on the new pitch – a happy omen for the future.

The AGM held on 4 December 2008 gave the go-ahead to commence the construction of six dressing rooms at the site. Dressing room facilities will also be provided in Knocklyon Park.

Sports Capital grants will assist greatly in meeting the costs of these facilities and the club is extremely grateful to all who have supported the club in these endeavours.

Focal ón gCathaoirleach

This time last year, having completed three years as Club Chairman, I indicated that I would not be seeking re-election this year. Obviously, I am a sucker for punishment and here I am again at the helm. This, however, is definitely my last year as the Club Bye Laws and Rules limit my reign to four years.

This was another great year for the Club on the playing fields as we won over 35 trophies with many other teams in runners-up positions. Some teams won league and Championship doubles which is a great distinction for them. As many of these victories were in the younger age groups, it shows that we have many good young players coming through the system.

Another first for the Club in 2008 was the winning of the Camogie Leinster senior championship final. Winning the Dublin final was special in the manner of the win but the Leinster was extra special on an otherwise rotten day in Rathnure. But the result is the important thing and it fell our way. The team also won the Open Cup and was unlucky to be beaten in the league final. The senior B Camogie team also had a great win in the shield final.

After our defeat to Birr in the first round of the Leinster senior hurling championship, our team and management were very dejected. I suppose it is a sign of how far we have come in two years that we genuinely expected to beat Birr. It did not happen on the day but it was not for want of effort on the training field and on the field of play. If, this time two years ago, we were offered two senior hurling championships, one league (2007) and a Leinster final, we would have taken it without question. The performance of the Hurling Section generally has been exceptional. The senior B team retained senior A league status. The minor A team won the championship and league and the minor B team also won the Championship.

We have become used to the successes of the Senior Ladies footballers over the years and have begun to take their successes for granted. They won their 9th senior county final this year – what a record and what a team, and they also won the league. Unfortunately they were beaten in the Leinster semi-final by a very good Mountmellick team. At underage level, the section continues to grow and grow with championship and league wins at different age levels. Indeed, the Under 14A team did the treble – Féile, Championship and league. The future is surely bright.

The senior footballers had a good start to their championship. However, following a great contest with Ballymun Kickhams in the quarter final, they were extremely unlucky to be beaten by virtually the last action of the game with a last minute sucker punch of a goal. Despite a disappointing league, having to win their last game to be guaranteed Div 1 status next year, there is still the nucleus of a team there that is capable of winning the Championship. The Junior A footballers kept the football flag flying by winning the Stacey Cup on another horrible day in Ballycullen.

The success of our Juvenile Section is the envy of many clubs. The highlight of the year, among the many successes, especially in the eyes of the outgoing chairman, John Ryan, was the U16 championship victory over our neighbours, St Judes. This team had been beaten in three championship finals by this same Judes team so this victory was particularly sweet. There were also excellent wins for the Under 14 footballers who won the league, the under 13A footballers who did the double, the Under 13C footballers who won the championship/shield and the U12 and U 13 hurlers who won the Camaint and PJ Troy trophies respectively.

Our Academies, are thriving on Saturday mornings thanks to the hard work of Brian O'Regan, Paul McLoughlin and their cohort of workers. A new academy in Ballycullen was set up recently and hopefully it will take some of the pressure off the local academy at the Club. The Summer Camps continue to be one of the most popular in the area thanks to the organisational abilities of PJ Donohue, with Brian and Paul.

Fundraising continues to be an important part of Club finances as we strive to run the Club to the required standard. The current recession is likely to have a negative effect on our fundraising efforts. We urge all members to help in any way you can.

An ongoing source of income for a number of years now has been the Lotto and this year again it contributed a considerable sum to our coffers. The potential income from the Lotto is huge. It is therefore very disappointing that there are still a large number of members who are not members of the Lotto. If all members were contributing, we could raise a further 45,000 or more annually.

The bar has been a regular source of finance over many years. However, this year again there is a drop in the overall bar turnover. I would ask members to use our lounge when ever possible. On Wednesday nights there is a very good music session in the lounge and if you are a musician, you are welcome to join in. Otherwise, why not just come down and enjoy the seisiún. We also have a Drama Society, an Art Society, set dancing on a Wednesday night, cards on a Friday night, pool and darts, and a Senior Citizens Network that organises social outings, so there are plenty of activities around the Club that might interest you. If you are worried about your heart giving up while in the Club, don't worry, we have a defibrillator, thanks to Niall Sudway, and we have trained operators thanks to Anne Marie Sudway.

Gaelic Telecom is another way members can painlessly contribute to Club finances by simply transferring from their current telephone supplier to Gaelic Telecom. The Club will then get 15% of the cost of calls made. I would encourage everyone to consider moving to Gaelic Telecom.

On the capital spending side, it is a great relief that Sancta Maria all-weather full-size pitch is now up and running and receiving very positive comments from players and mentors alike. The entrance road and the car park are in use and the Prunty-type pitch should be ready for play next year. Having completed the purchase of the additional buildings in Sancta Maria, we sought and were granted planning permission to build 6 dressing rooms. We also successfully applied for Lottery funding and we were awarded a grant of 350,000. Hopefully building will commence early in the New Year. I ask mentors/players to close and lock the gates to the Green Route if yours is the last car to leave the car park.

In Ballycullen we have been granted planning permission for the dressing rooms and we intend to proceed with them as soon as some logistical problems are sorted out with the Council in relation to a large water main that will be laid beside the pitch. Again, it is essential that the gates are closed and locked after the last car leaves the car park.

Next year is the 40th anniversary of the Club and we hope to celebrate it in a proper manner. Next year is also the 125th anniversary of the founding of the GAA so we may be able to combine both celebrations. It is probable that we will officially open Sancta Maria during 2009 so this will be a big occasion – any ideas about this would be appreciated. There will be many challenges, including trying to retain the trophies we have won and trying to add the other senior trophy (football) to our collection.

I would also like to take this opportunity to remind members that they have a responsibility to ensure that the Door Duty roster is complied with. Members will have to do the door duty no more than once a year. So please check the Club website (www.bodengaa.ie) to see when your turn arrives.

I wish all the incoming Committee members, managers, mentors, coaches, board delegates, players, Ned and his bar staff, sponsors, fundraisers, our general membership, our schools and our General Manager, Noel Sheridan, the best of luck for the New Year.

You would not be reading this Newsletter without the huge amount of time and effort put in to the role of PRO by Gerry O'Sullivan. Thanks Gerry.

To my wife Theresa, and my family, a special thank you for your patience over the years and I ask for your indulgence for one more year.

Finally, I wish you all a relaxing and merry Christmas and I hope to see you in a confident and supportive mood in the New Year. The future is bright for the Club.

Le gach dea-ghuile haghaidh na Nollag agus na h-athbhliana uaim féin agus ón gCoiste Feidhmeannach go léir agus to mbeireadh muid beo ag an am seo arís.

LOTTO “A Valuable Source of Revenue” says Pádraig Cullinane, Lotto Chairman

The LOTTO is now in its ninth year and continues to be a valuable source of revenue for the club. However over the past few years the number of subscribers has declined and now stands at 765. This is well down on previous years. We have now reached a critical stage and should the downward trend continue we will be close to a situation where the LOTTO will no longer be a money earner.

The LOTTO is a key fundraising source and the funds raised are spent on coaching and facilities which benefits all members of the club. The changed economic situation will put pressure on all the revenue sources. It is therefore very important that the LOTTO continues to play a central role in our fundraising activities. An examination of the list of LOTTO subscribers shows that the take-up by members is poor. Members who do not participate in the LOTTO are therefore encouraged to become involved. If it is not possible to commit for a year as a registered subscriber, members can contribute through the weekly €2 envelope or through the online service. This can be accessed through www.bodengaa.ie or through www.localotto.ie. A drive for new subscribers will be undertaken in the New Year and we look forward to a positive response from everybody.

Over €90,000 is distributed in prizes which is a substantial sum. The odds of winning are also very good with over 300 winners throughout the year. In LOTTO 2008 which began in April there already have been over 190 winners.

Monday night is LOTTO night. So why not drop down to the clubhouse and enjoy the relaxed atmosphere which surrounds the LOTTO draw. The draw takes place at 11.00pm.

A special word of thanks to Cathal Macarthy of Macarthy Auctioneers for his continuing sponsorship of the LOTTO.

Hurling Review - Championship titles from Under 16 to Senior

What a year! Two teams competing in Division 1 of the senior league – more than likely a national first; a successful defence of the senior A championship; a double minor championship and an under 16 championship crown. A truly remarkable year and there were a few near misses as well.

2007 was an historic year. But no doubt there would have been doubters outside the club who would have revelled if we could not retain the senior title. They did not get the opportunity as the team claimed the crown with an impressive win over Kilmacud Crokes. The form may not have been as impressive as in 2007 but there was still huge expectation and hope when the side faced Birr in the Leinster club championship. But the team never performed and Birr were deserving winners. But a terrific year nonetheless for the players and management team of Liam Hogan, Robert Lambert, John Kirwan, Jim Kilty, Gerry Aherne and those associated with the team.

The double minor success – Minor A (Francis Sharkey, Conor Sheehan, Donal Ryan, Paul Daly, Robert Woodcock) and Minor B (Dave Harford, Eddie Finn, John Small, John Ryan) broke another frontier. While the success of the Under 16 team over St. Judes (John Small, John Ryan, Mick Garry, Eoghan Carroll, Mick Ryan) showed that there's no beating persistence.

In 2009, there is a possibility the Senior team will take part in the Leinster League while the Senior B side (Emmet Pullan, Mick Fletcher, Philip Larkin) has retained its Division 1 status - no mean feat.

Senior A championship - The Back to Back Win

Football Review 2008

After a difficult league campaign where the senior team was often missing a range of regulars, the side managed to put together a very respectable championship campaign. Wins over Naomh Mearnóg and Na Fianna in the group phase put the side into the quarter-finals. However with the finishing line in sight, Ballymun Kickhams snatched a last minute winning goal.

The Junior A team was pipped for promotion but had the consolation of winning the Stacey Cup in a replay against St. Annes.

The Minor A team looked like a championship was in prospect until the side was beaten by Na Fianna in the semi final. However a league play-off may yet yield a reward for all the hard work.

On the intercounty front Colin Moran and Conal Keaney won Leinster and O'Byrne Cup honours with Dublin while Darren Homan and David Hughes were part of Dublin's Junior All-Ireland success.

Ciaran Maher returned home to celebrate the silver jubilee of the 1983 All-Ireland win and the 1983 Division 3 league success with the club. Present at a reunion in the club was the manager of that team Frank Quinn who sadly passed away a short time afterwards. Ar dheis Dé go raibh sé.

After 36 years of service, Ken Murray hung up his boots and was duly honoured for his great achievement.

A Football Review group under Brendan Young with help from Shane Heraty, Mick Maher, John O'Neill, Jody Moran, Sean Manley, Mark Fee, Ger Flaherty, Mick Higgins, Ian Clarke, Richie Connell, John Archbold and Peter Shovlin conducted a searching analysis of the state of adult football in the club.

In a detailed review, the report highlighted a range of recommendations in the areas of

1 Player Management

- Development of an adult player management/cross panel policy. (Formal process for moving players across panels)
- Development of a formalised under

age transition policy

- Adult panels will consist of two teams. (Sen & Inter; Jun A & Jun B)
- Implementation of a Player Liaison Officer role to support the above.

2 Coaching and Football Practice

- Development of an adult coaching program.
- All players to be coached to a consistent standard by way of above program.
- A pool of talented and well directed coaches required to sustain the coaching program
- Critical mass at football practice to enable football coaching objectives.
- Coaching program to be reviewed annually to ensure it remains relevant
- All players become part of a panel comprising greater than 1 team
- All players to attend football practice in a communal football practice facility

3 Communication within Football

The Football Committee is central to good communication. It must be strong, clear minded and base all decisions on the agreed goals of the football section.

- There must be open and honest communication amongst managers in all aspects of panels, teams, players and fixtures.
- A player and manager charter should be developed with communication as its cornerstone. There must be respect between all parties concerned
- Text messaging should be the preferred form of communication from players and managers.
- An end of season players forum to be developed to encourage open feedback/lessons learned on the season.

4 Morale/Motivation

- All adult teams to train in the same location. Building stronger bonds across teams.

- Communal training will create a transparency of effort where players who are performing well will rapidly come to the attention of management and be given an opportunity of promotion up the ranks of adult football.
- The club and the players should cooperate with each other in planning social events.
- Players to receive regular structured feedback on progress or regress to enable positive action to be taken to either reinforce or remedy the situation.

These recommendations will receive further study during 2009.

Juvenile Review

Reviewing the way the club operates was a common theme in 2008. Taking its cue from this approach, the Juvenile Section ably advised by coaching officer Brian O'Regan and Games Promotion Officer Paul McLoughlin embarked on an exciting new development.

After operating largely along the same lines for over 30 years, very successfully one might add, it was felt the time was right to review the nursery operations and inject a slightly new approach.

What emerged was the new Academy Structure in football, hurling, camogie and ladies football. The new branding has generated great interest and the satellite Academies in Páirc Uí Mhurchú, the Hermitage and for the first time at Knocklyon Park, Ballycullen are attracting large numbers.

Players are exposed to a range of coaching basically incorporated into seven 10 minutes coaching stations. Players rotate between the stations which incorporate Fundamentals stations, Skill Stations, Fun Game stations, Skill Games stations and Match stations.

Paul McLoughlin comments "A special thank you goes to Eoin O'Riordan, U9 Football mentor & coach. Eoin through his employer, Leahy & Co Chartered Accountants, very generously sponsored the purchase of coaches' tops for our 100 or so coaches, as means of recognising them when training is on. We are very grateful to Eoin for this support."

The popularity of the many club juvenile blitzes continues to improve each year. One of the longest established is the prestigious David Maycock Cup. The 13th annual competition drew over 80 Under 10 and Under 11 boys for the hurling event with victory going at the finish to the Dublin team.

After a string of near misses at U13, 14 and 15 championship levels, the Under 16 hurlers finally got their reward when in a thrilling encounter the side managed by John Small, John Ryan, Eoghan Carroll, Mick Garry with First Aid help from Mick Ryan overcame St. Judes. The squad also made a huge input into the two minor hurling championship successes.

In football, the Under 14A team reached the final of Féile Peil before losing to the eventual All-Ireland Champions Kilmacud Crokes. The side bounced back from this to capture the league title.

Going one better was the Under 13 side (Noel Madden, Paddy Brady, Brendan Burke) which took championship honours despite having to endure a re-fixtured after the first game was abandoned due to bad light at 3.00 pm! It was that kind of Summer. The Under 13C team (Donal McCarthy, Michael Clancy) had an equally merited win in their Shield final.

Camogie Review 2008

Twenty years ago in 1988, the Boden attained Senior A status and with perfect timing, the 20th anniversary was celebrated with the club's first Leinster Senior Club Camogie title. In a drama packed final minute, Emer Lucey delivered a dipping shot that crept into the corner of the net at a rain-sodden Rathnure. Her sister Ciara popped over the clincher from a 45 and history had been made beating Rathnure of Wexford by 3 - 3 to 1 - 7. A tremendous achievement for the management team of P J Donohue, John Dineen and Ciara Hayes, captain Roisin Keaney and the entire squad. In addition to the Dublin championship, the team also captured the Open Cup and were pipped in a league play-off by a point - St Vincents provided the opposition in all three games. A very welcome feature of the squad is the number of players who have come off the 2007 and 2006 under 16 panels. Player retention after completion of their underage careers is extremely important and it is pleasing to note the progress that is being made in this area.

The Senior B team (Martin Donohue, Jane Hogan) took to their first floodlit game in style at Kiltipper Road when capturing the Shield title against home club Thomas

Davis while the Intermediate team (Pádraig Ó Duibhir, Tricia Higgins) showed tremendous potential in their first year in the grade.

While the club has enjoyed better years in terms of honours won on the juvenile front, the club fielded at all ages from Under 10 to Under 16.

Pride of place must go to the Under 12B team (Michéal Bryson, Karen Featherstone, Orla Mullaney, John O'Hanlon, Tom Page, Gerry White) who brought home the championship title when the side beat Whitehall Colmcille. Team captain Doireann Mullaney was named as player of the match.

The Roomex.com sponsored Mini All-Ireland for girls under the age of 12 has become a hugely popular item on the camogie calendar. This year was no exception with a record number in the region of 150 taking part. Appreciation to Jack Donaghy, managing director of Roomex.com and Paddy Brady for their continued support.

The Sancta Maria complex has already justified the vision of those who saw the potential back in the late 1990s and camogie has been making full use of the facilities. A very successful Under 11 mini league took place in March and Dublin hurling captain and Boden dual star Stephen Hiney was the popular special guest.

Individual honours are always welcome and Rachel Ruddy was doubly honoured for her excellence at club and county levels. At the Dublin Presentation Night held in the club, Rachel was named Dublin Club Player of the Year and joint Dublin County Player of the Year with Andrea Fitzpatrick of Naomh Mearnóg. Rachel was also a nominee for an O'Neills All-Star.

Antrim was the destination of choice of two of the juvenile teams during the year. The Under 14s (Gerry O'Sullivan, John Ryan, Ken Giles, Fiona Ní Shúilleabháin, Ciara Scallan) were guests of St. Johns, Belfast in February while in September the Belfast girls paid a return trip to the club. While the Under 12s headed for the beautiful Glens and the Ballycastle McQuillans club.

A well supported Fashion Show revealed hidden talents and generated an important contribution to the funds of the club as did the HEE BEE BEE GEES concert.

A number of girls also wore the Dublin colours with distinction - Seniors: Ciara Lucey, Rachel Ruddy, Fiona Ní Chorcoráin, Sile Nic Coitir ; Under 16: Ciara Donovan, Lauren Edwards, Aisling Keane and Under 14: Amy Ryan, Alyson Doyle.

Ladies Football Review

There seems to be no stopping them. The decade began with a first senior championship win and as we enter 2009, the team is unbeaten in Dublin senior football championship football. A 3 - 14 to 0 - 11 win over Na Fianna earned the club its 9th senior championship in a row and to cap it off the side claimed the league title with a narrow win over Naomh Mearnóg/St. Sylvesters. A great year for the management team of Martin Masterson, Brian O'Regan, Bobby O'Sullivan and Declan O'Reilly.

A fine Mountmellick side ended further dreams of Leinster and All-Ireland glory.

Nevertheless, the well continues to be replenished and the Under 14 squad (Robbie Murphy, Eugene Duffy) took the treble winning the Dublin Féile Peil, the championship and the League.

Hot on the U14 heels come the Under 13 side managed by Fearghal Brennan and Muriel Falconer. Seven out of seven wins secured the league title and the side made it a double when overcoming Kilmacud Crokes to win the championship.

The road to fun and success starts early and already the Under 9s have tasted action. They made their debuts in a Ballyboden St Endas v Naas encounter. Four teams represented the club under the fearsome titles - "Tigers, Lions, Bears and Sharks". Their enthusiasm and attitude was superb throughout. Mentor Ned Flood commented "their football skills were of exceptional standard and have no doubt that many of these girls will represent Club and County. Ladies football has a bright future with the arrival of "The new kids on the block". Apparently the girls have a new Boden chant, Bally- Bo-den- ah ha, which could make it to Number 1 for Christmas!!

In the final ladies football game of the year, the minor team was probably involved in the best display of football of the year. A cracking replay win over Foxrock-Cabin-teely saw the team managed by Pat McGrath, Finnian Hyland, Gerry Basquel, Derek Ward and Declan O'Reilly make it championship No 6 at this level.

Boden News Reporter Sinead Ryan has been getting the low-down on Jim Kilty – trainer extraordinaire

When the final whistle went in Parnell Park on the 31st October 2008, Ballyboden St Endas had retained their title as Senior Dublin Champions. Hurling fans had doubts back in early 2007 that Ballyboden would win their first ever county final never mind win it back to back this year but one Navan man Jim Kilty always had it at the back of his mind that this team was going to do damage and they did just that.

Kilty joined Ballyboden St Endas back in 2006 after being approached by hurling manager Liam Hogan. "When Liam asked me to help coach the hurlers, I was only too happy. I have trained county teams in the past but I have never trained a club team so if anything it was going to be a challenge" and a challenge it was but a successful one at that. Jim has a record of only losing three games with the senior hurlers since his arrival and two of them were in the Leinster Senior Club Championships.

This year's hurling was a different kettle of fish though. Kilty feels that the team never got in their full stride like last year. "We were in great shape last year and still think that we could have beaten Birr in the Leinster Final but this year I don't think we had the same fitness. We had both the A team and the B team training together which made it difficult at training sessions if we didn't have enough people to play matches this will be something we have to look at going into next season".

Another advantage to last year's win was to see all the young players coming through the ranks such as Simon Lambert and Shane Durkin. Both players have fought hard throughout the season and it has paid off. Simon has played a big role in the county team this year and with the introduction of Clare-man Anthony Daly to the county management, it can only be an improvement for Dublin. Ballyboden St Endas also have their involvement in the Dublin management this year as Vincent Teehan is part of the Dublin management selection. Kilty is delighted saying, "Vinny is a brilliant addition to the Dublin scene, he knows Dublin hurling inside and out and is a brilliant skills man, and it's great for Ballyboden to have a man representing the club".

With the inclusion of Galway and Antrim to the Leinster Championship this year, it will be harder for the Dubs to reach a Leinster Final. Jim isn't a fan of the movement of Galway and Antrim to the Leinster Championship but feels that if he was in their shoes that something had to be done. His idea of an ideal hurling championship where everyone has a chance would be two separate championships where the Leinster Championship and the All Ireland Championship are played separately.

Since joining Ballyboden St Endas Jim has also continued successfully in his academic side of life as he teaches in Setanta College. Setanta College was opened in May 2007 with 24 students and today it has up to 185 students. Setanta College is a Provider of Learning opportunities in the area of Sports, Fitness and Coaching studies and provides three HETAC courses including Strength and Conditioning courses and Resistance and Weight courses. Many high profile GAA/Rugby players attend the college and it is improving day by day – check out www.setantacollege.com.

Jim has coached high profile teams and athletes such as the Tipperary Hurling team and Wexford camogie to All-Ireland titles not to mention coaching Derval O'Rourke for nine years until she moved abroad. Nowadays he is being kept on his feet as he coaches the Mayo Men's Football team, he does the weight training with the Offaly hurlers and also helps the Dublin

Ladies Football as well as guiding Ballyboden to their second county title in a row.

Looking into the future Jim feels that Ballyboden St Enda's can only get stronger and stronger. "There is so much potential in this club, I think that over the next couple of years the club should open an academy for players from the ages of 16- 19 years of age. The academy would be able to concentrate on players who have county potential and give them a great guideline before they reach the harder games in their lives". He hopes that he will be with Boden for the foreseeable future. He is happy with his work and things can only get better His final wish would be to see the Boden hurlers come back and win the three in a row and to have that tag linked with Dublin and not Kilkenny.

Sean Flynn - The Dub from Aughnasheelin

In a fit of exasperation one night at a Leitrim County Board meeting, the late Tom Ó Riordáin quipped. "There's a man from Aughnasheelin up in Dublin and he's in charge of more teams than in all of Leitrim. What are ye on about?" The man from Aughnasheelin was Sean Flynn who for over 30 years has been at the core of involvement in Ballyboden St Endas.

Aughnasheelin lies in the southern part of Leitrim – a distinction that people would appreciate from that part of the country as Lough Allen splits one of Ireland's smallest counties in two. Sean explains "South Leitrim tends to look more towards Cavan and Longford while the northern part of the county veers in the direction of Donegal and Fermanagh. In the last 20 years or so Leitrim has come more on the map but it has been a quite kind of place up until that."

He was born John Flynn to farmers Pakie and Una (Fee) in the half parish of Aughnasheelin – the other half is made up by Ballinamore. "Times were tough during the 1939-45 war but we were lucky. We had a quarry and the County Council used to use the stones for road-making. In the winter, my father used to rise the stones often 100 tons. He'd go out with crowbar, wedges and sledge. When we'd come home from school, my brother and I would get the horse and cart and head for the quarry to load up the stones. Might get a fiver or £7 10s (shillings) from the Council and that was a lot of money at the time."

The eldest of five – brothers Paddy (Leixlip), George (Dundalk), Peter (Aughnasheelin) and Margaret (Kilcar), Sean's father Pakie was a bit of a local football legend. "We were often told – you'll never be as good as your father. He used to play full-back and played a bit for Leitrim."

Sean won a Junior Championship county title with Aughnasheelin and an Under 14 title with Sean O'Heslins of Ballinamore. "I remember one day a car arriving for me with two O'Heslins lads in it. We were taken down to Cavan to play illegally for I think Bailieborough in a Cavan Under 14 final. They might as well have left me at home as I was so afraid of being recognised that I hardly went for the ball."

While emigration bit into the population of Leitrim, the local coal mines in Slieveaniarann did provide a bulwark of sorts. But Sean had promised himself at an early age that he would not leave Ireland.

While attending the Vocational School in Ballinamore, a Garda Maguire stopped him in the street one day. "He said to me that there was an exam being held for the Post Office and he told me 'I think you should do it'. I did it and got it and ended up in Manorhamilton. I met Tommy O'Riordan through the Post Office. He worked in Carrick-on-Shannon."

This necessitated a move to Manorhamilton and the Sean McDermotts club where he moved from his usual berth at full-back to centre field or centre back.

When he wasn't playing he walked and travelled all over Connacht to see games. Then fate took another twist.

"I used to notice a fine Guard in the town. The women were all after him. I said to myself that would be a nice job to have. So I sat the exam in Sliago and before I knew it

I was in the Depot in Dublin."

His first posting was to Mullingar where he played a few times for The Downs. Then on to Delvin - location for Brinsley McNamara's novel "The Valley of the Squinting Windows" "The Big Belly Butcher was still alive" he recalls. But eventually he was assigned to Harcourt Terrace station in Dublin.

Sean inherited a great interest in history, stories and folklore from his father and this was no doubt enhanced in Harcourt Terrace where he got to know or meet famous locals Michéal MacLiamóir and Hilton Edwards - famed founders of the Gate Theatre; Monaghan born poet Paddy Kavanagh "a grumpy man" and Brendan Behan. "I remember when MacLiamóir was in Australia, Hilton would come into the station to use the phone. Now to make an international call we would have to record it and say what the purpose was. We used to say we were investigating a serious crime and that the suspect was in Australia!"

On another occasion, he was on duty keeping an eye on a house in Baggot Street when a man with a banjo approached him.

"Can I play you a tune, he asked. I was afraid of my life someone would come out of the house and see a Garda and a fella playing the banjo for him. But who was it only Barney McKenna waiting for a taxi."

Crime was low key and on more than one occasion he was assigned the important task of leading a duck and her three or four ducklings on her annual trek from Merrion Street to St. Stephens Green.

When the Aughnasheelin club reformed Sean and fellow natives in Dublin used to travel back for games. "As I was the only one who had a driver's licence. I used to hire a car from Murrays in Baggot Street. We paid for it ourselves and headed off on Sunday mornings. We had to make a couple of stops to let the lads stretch and swap places. On our way back we'd stop in Tommy Monaghan's shop in Mullingar. Tommy played for Westmeath and he'd give us all the results of the day while we bought up sweets, biscuits and minerals. None of us drank at the time."

Sean is well known as a great raconteur and actor – a hobby that he has been involved in since he was 16 years of age. "A group of us from Leitrim – men and women – used to put on plays in Aughnasheelin as a fund-raiser for the club for a number of years. We used to rehearse out in Clontarf, bring the sets down to Aughnasheelin, perform the play and back to Dublin again." He has continued this interest up to the present in the club and over the years has starred in many plays. A great devotee of Scór, he helped organise the competition for many years in Ballyboden and one of his judges one year was well known singer and Leitrim native Eleanor Shanley.

He also spent time when in Leitrim covering local matches for the Leitrim Observer with his great friend and fellow Garda, the late Michael Fox.

After Harcourt Terrace, Sean served in Dublin Castle, Rathmines, Kevin Street and Buncrana where he remembers being involved with a show that included Phil Coulter and Joe Locke. From Buncrana he returned to Dublin and the Sundrive Road Station where he was to remain until retirement. "I was fortunate to be a member of An Garda Síochána. It was the most wonderful time of my life."

Music was his entree to Ballyboden St Endas. "I was a member of the Ballyroan Church Choir and I met Niamhín Scolard who was trying to teach some of us the guitar. Through Niamhín I met Dáithí."

"Dáithí invited me to a meeting in the club. They were trying to set up a juvenile section. I turned up and on my first visit to the club was made the first Chairman of the Juvenile Section a position I was to hold for the next 12 years. Juvenile affairs in Dublin were a bit careless then. I wanted everything done properly. All registered players, every team would have a manager, proper set of jerseys, and fulfil all fixtures."

Among those active at the juvenile or Executive levels then were John Francois, Brian Croke, Pat Riney, Terry Noone, Kevin Cardiff, Martin Lennon, Jimmy Fitzpatrick, Sean MacPhaidín, Kevin O'Malley, Jim Whittle, Tony Morgan, Paddy Connolly, Ray Leonard, John Mulrooney, Pat Caffrey, Jimmy Whan, Liam Delaney and Eamonn McKenna.

Sean was also very keen on network building. "We worked closely with the schools and parents. We had social nights for teachers and parents."

A key innovation of Sean's was the organised Saturday nurseries. "I had been watching our Under 11s and when they saw the ball they all ran like geese after a bit of food. I said to myself if we had those fellas coached we could take on the likes of Kilmacud Crokes and Round Tower who were the dominant south city teams at the time. So we became the first club to have organised coaching at Páirc Uí Mhurchú and the Hermitage. We had coaches like Conor Doolan, Bill McAllister and Ray Leonard. We organised street leagues; referee courses and we published a newsletter for juveniles only."

By this time Sean was a married man with a young family. He met his wife Myra Mahony from near Portumna through a cousin who like Myra was a nurse in the Richmond. "At that time when the Hospital was having their annual dance the local Gardaí would be asked to provide the men." The Flynns have three in family - Gary (Wexford), Shane (Dublin) and Jacintha (Cork).

A treasured memory is of the time the club won its first juvenile championship - the Under 16 football title of 1981. "We drew with Vincents in the first match. I well remember a Vincents mentor saying afterwards 'we know what ye have now'. Brian Stynes was the manager. He knew what they were going to do. Jimmy was centre field. My fella Gary used to play corner-back. Now one thing about Gary - his anticipation was always first class. Brian moved him to midfield for the replay and whenever Vincents broke the ball Gary was there every time to pick up the breaks - we won the match. That night we put a table on top of a table and the cup on top of that and danced around it."

Progress to the Executive Committee followed and in 1986/87 he was elected Chairman. After that he served as Secretary for nine years. He was Vice-Chair of the Football Committee as well as Secretary.

Sean also started the monthly ceilis when he brought the renowned set dancing teacher the late Connie Ryan to the club. He picked the first Saturday of every month as the date and it has remained so ever since. Myra was an ever present at the ceilis making tea, collecting the money, washing the hall floor, tidying up. "The Ladies Committees have not got the recognition they deserve. They have done great work behind the scene for the club down through the years."

"Ballyboden is a family club. It is what the club in the country is - the centre of activity in the community. I love to come up on a Saturday morning and see all the small children playing with their parents watching on. Winning championships is the cream on the bottle but it's not everything. I'm a Dub now and my interest is in Dublin football and hurling."

Johnny Kenny tells a great story about this team. "We represented Dublin in Division 2 of the All-Ireland that year. The team that beat us in the Dublin Féile final was thrown out for lighting fires on the side of the pitch. No joking! That's how we came to represent Dublin. We won a few matches in the early stages of the All-Ireland Féile but we lost to a Laois side in the semi final. When we were on the parade on our way to Croker for the finals we learnt that the Laois crowd had been thrown out for playing bangers - 15 and 16 year olds - so we had to play in the All-Ireland final that day. So we played in Croke Park in our runners, no helmets - we were lucky we had the hurleys for the parade. Naturally we lost to Mount Sion but we didn't do too badly in the circumstances."

Club Newsletter

The first newsletter was introduced in 1976 as an initiative solely for the Juvenile section. It was edited by Frank Harte and Seamus McConnell, two Fifth Year students at Coláiste Éanna. It had a sporadic existence but was revived again in 1987 this time as an inclusive Club Newsletter before falling into another silent period. It was re-established in June 1993 and has continued ever since. With the advent of the website, the Boden News has moved to being an annual Christmas publication

Dear Members,

It gives me great pleasure to introduce what I hope will be the first of many Newsletters to you. The aim of this Newsletter is to keep you informed of Club activities.

As you are aware, our clubhouse was officially opened on 29th October, 1976. Now that it is open we hope that in the near future we will be able to provide other facilities besides the playing of Hurling and Football.

The Club has a very involved Juvenile Committee looking after your affairs. But nothing can be achieved without your participation and effort.

I hope you will all do your utmost to be available at all times for your various games. Whereas we all enjoy winning games it is of much more importance to participate and compete sportingly. This gives the greater satisfaction.

You may not be aware that we are running between 12 and 16 Juvenile Teams each week-end. This requires a vast amount of transport and we would hope that more parents would make available their help for transport and organization.

I'll finish off by wishing you all enjoyment in your games for the coming year and hoping that you will continue to keep up the high standard of work.

Yours sincerely,

Peter Molloy

Senior Citizens Network

By: Fintan Walsh

2008 marked a successful year in the development of the Network with membership now hitting the 150 mark. There was a full calendar of events including the presentation of "The Playboy of the Western World" by the club's own Drama Group and performances by the Rathfarnham Concert Band, the Ballyroan Adult Band and John Doyle's Mulligan group.

Outings took place to the National Stud and the Japanese Gardens in Kildare as well as a visit to the splendid Civic Theatre in Tallaght for Greenhills Variety Show. Sincere thanks also to young musicians Kathy O'Neill and brothers Patrick and Ciarán O'Meara who entertained us during the year.

Appreciation also to Dolores, Rita, Rose and Olive who laid out refreshments at our receptions.

The Christmas Party meticulously organised by Tommy Clinton and his team is the social highlight of the year.

The Committee comprises of Fintan Walsh (Chair), John O'Neill (Sec), Sean Flynn (Treas), Liam Delaney, Dolores Griffin, Rose and Noel Sheridan, Olive Monaghan, Diarmuid MacMathúna, Tommy Clinton, Jack O'Farrell and Noel Callan with Club Chairman Paddy Walsh always on hand to help.

Recession or no recession, we look forward to a pleasant and successful year in 2009.

Art Altruism supports Cancer

Minor hurling mentor Conor Sheehan has hidden talents

The club's first Art Exhibition exceeded all expectations with a superb display of work produced by artists from within and without of the club. The brainchild of Katie Daly, the exhibition entitled "Art Altruism" raised over €2,600 for the Irish Cancer Society and Arthritis Ireland. John Church, Chief Executive of Arthritis Ireland and Kevin Delaney from the Irish Cancer Society were present.

The Ballyboden St. Endas Art Society (BAS) was so pleased with the results that they have decided to make it an annual event.

Katie Daly says "Thank you to everyone who attended and we are already making plans for next year on how we do things bigger and better. We hope to pick a different charity each year, one that is personal to a member of the Art Society."

Art was exhibited by Neil Brennan, Katie Daly, Dave Sweeney, Conor Sheehan, Betty Wilkinson, Catherine Flood, Robert Brennan and Bethan Rees. Niamhín Scolard donated a piece of work by Tom Scolard.

Lots of members of Ballyboden St. Enda's GAA attended the exhibition and were generous in their donations and buying pieces of artwork.

Among those to view the exhibits were Colin Moran, Conal Keaney, Alan Shatter TD, Olivia Mitchell TD, Brian Hayes TD and Cllr. Cait Keane.
