Senior B Hurlers add the points in Promotion Quest - The Long Fella

BBSE 1-15: 0-13 Naomh Olaf - Report by The Long Fella

To a backdrop of Sandyford industry and a remnant from the “tiger”, Ballyboden collected the points in this league fixture. Conditions were perfect, a sunny evening and long shadows for the modest attendance. The visitors left it late to get the upperhand, at times “threatening” to falter with some poor shooting. Morgan Ryan notched up a goal and a point with ten minutes left and with Jimmy Doody in fine form from placed balls the game petered out, Olafs looking for late goals.

The opening quarter was all for the home side and they bagged some fine scores to lead by 6 to a point. Prompted by a fine save by Donie Butler in the Boden goals, the visitors got going and quickly eroded the margin. Doody got some fine scores from frees and was instrumental in feeding the point of the attack, the evergreen David Sweeney, Adam Jermyn and Ryan, always a threat. Jermyn using his strength, was causing panic in the Olaf defence, at one time feeding Ryan from a tight angle for a point. Further out Brendan Treacy had his hands full, but his distribution won out and he fed good ball around. By half time the sides were level at 7 each.

The second period opened up with Olafs back on the attack, but Boden had their defence well tuned, Stephen Nagle and Darragh O’Gorman doing particularly well. Butler was called on again to keep the sheet clean, which he did with confidence. Boden created some good chances, using the “one-two” as their interplay. Doody scored a beauty after Treacy fed him twice. Sweeney and Treacy added points and Doody was again on the mark. But Olafs were not going away and tied the game mid way.

Enter Ryan, profiting from Sweeney and Conor Barton, “tickling the confusion” of the home defenders. The ball was latched onto by him and he buried it past the hapless goalkeeper. He followed up with a point and Doody and Eoin McKenna contributed to put the game out of reach for the hard working Olaf attack.

Man in the middle JC Ryan was busy with the yellow, casting a cold eye on some robust exchanges. Click here for the League Table.

U14 Hurlers Trip to Kilkenny and Thurles - The Third Policeman

Dublin may have been beaten in Thurles and no doubt Dublin Hurling people are down; nevertheless the Third Policeman ( always an optimist ) believes the future is bright for Dublin Hurling.

En route to the Dublin Waterford match, the Ballyboden St Enda's U14 hurlers stopped in Kilkenny "the home of hurling" to play James Stephens in a challenge game. Typical of the James Stephens club, the hurling was ferocious and the hospitality was magnificent.

Result: BBSE 3 : 5 James Stephens 0 : 7

Saddle up and on to Semple.

Our Hurlers were beaten by Waterford and it wasn't pretty but so what. On our behalf, they've hurled and fought and won and lost, devoted their lives to Dublin hurling, inspired us and defined us. Tiocfaidh ár lá.

Thurles may indeed be the home of hurling and the Anner Hotel the hub; after all in what other dining room in what other hotel would the Ballyboden St. Enda's U14 hurlers (an unruly mob at times) be so warmly welcomed into; with hurleys in hand and the odd flick of a ball, fed and watered with roast beef, veg with lots of potatoes, old style. In Tipperary speak "the finest".

The Third Policeman always stops for ice cream on the way home. Johnstown County Kilkenny (another home of hurling) it was for the choc ices. Back to the club ( THE HOME OF HURLING ) in time for the Sunday Game and one creamy pint. Apparently Donal Óg thinks Cork is no longer the home of hurling. The third policeman disagrees; home is where you're hurling.
